

The Holiday Season 2003, Armed Forces Retirement Home - Washington

“A Bountiful Thanksgiving”

November birthday wishes! AFRH staff members provided the top entertainment during the November birthday dinner.

Long time musician Bernice Goldstein provided delightful entertainment during the recent birthday celebration.

Left: Veteran's Day visit from a local elementary school brought smiles to the faces of all residents in the King Health Center.
Above National Volunteer Day! Military dependents designed placemats and greeting cards for AFRH-W residents.

Left: Robert Armstrong and Rachael Hatten show off a couple of dance steps during the November Birthday dinner.
Right: Up, Up and Away! Bill Novel loves to fly but I don't believe these balloons are the ticket.

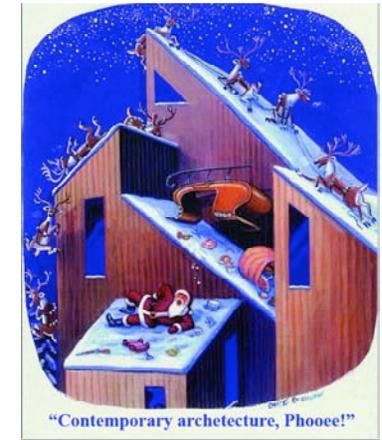

Homer Rutherford and John Ramsey have been busy in the woodshop building children's furniture.

Pete Setcoski takes advantage of building model airplane gliders in the AFRH-W woodshop.

Michael Kelecourse speaks with Cathy Brown about her Christmas ceramics

“Contemporary archetecture, Phooee!”